

505 Games announces the release of the first “Lunnis” game

05/11/2009

505 Games has announced today the release of the upcoming “Lunnis” video-game for Nintendo DS in collaboration with the Spanish developer Legend Studios. The game features the same original characters, videos and songs from the famous television show and it allows younger players to enjoy and learn with a huge range of activities and mini-games included.